REDEVELOPMENT

The New Mexico Metropolitan Redevelopment Code (§3-60A-1 to 3-60A- 48 NMSA 1978) provides municipalities in New Mexico with the powers to correct conditions in Metropolitan Redevelopment Areas (MRAs) which “substantially impair or arrest the sound and orderly development” within the city, which can help reverse an area’s decline.

Background research in the summer and fall of 2021 in our area resulted in a proposal to create a new MRA within University Heights to include the commercial and multi-family corridors along Central Boulevard, between University Boulevard SE and Girard Boulevard SE, and along Yale Boulevard SE.

As part of this work, Mandy Warr and Margie Trosterud are committee members in the focused stakeholder group representing the interests of the Neighborhood. This committee is pivotal in establishing a formal business group focused on safety, maintenance and marketing the district and is collaborating with fellow business and property owners to establish priorities and implement steps to form a district management program.

Currently, the MRA committee has reviewed case studies from peer corridors in Arizona, Tennessee, and Kansas to identify successful areas of redevelopment. The intention is to use this data in conjunction with intelligence data from the University Heights area to identify problem areas and possible mitigation strategies and solutions to address the deterioration, low level of commercial activities, and other causes that are detrimental to the growth of University Heights.

Meetings will continue through July aimed at defining top issues, identifying strategies and implementation plans for the short and long term work, and defining the resources needed to address these priorities within the University Heights MRA. More to come!
